Overview

- Objective: Determine which silhouette of a handbag in black has the highest value.
- Our target group is women ages 46+ with a high income of 100,000 plus because they are most likely to purchase bags at the Prada price point and on average buy more bags than men. Our ideal consumer is directly influenced by trends and are often located in urban or suburban areas.

Background

- Noticed Prada had unique handbag silhouettes
- Wanted to explore future consumer trends for the Spring Summer 2025 Season
- Handbags are a huge business for Prada and other luxury brands
- Black was a prominent color in their bags for Spring/Summer 2025, so we did not feel the need to test this.

Recommendations:

Gold Chain Leather Shoulder Bag

57% of respondents expressed neutral, dislike, or strong dislike towards the product. This data indicates a significant division in customer sentiment, suggesting that the product may not be universally appealing. Although this is a new design that could be attractive to some people, I suggest lowering the price since its unique silhouette may not be everyone's favorite.
